Serge LESAGE®

édito

The new Serge Lesage collection has been designed as a gentle setting case. Poetic because it breaks away from the classic shapes of rugs with curves, but also authentic because it draws chic vintage patterns that play on textures.

Frédérique Lepers reinvents the bohemian style with the elegance that characterises the brand.

Evanescent

As delicate as they are intangible, these four rugs are marked by a pictorial artistic liberty that makes them highly poetic.

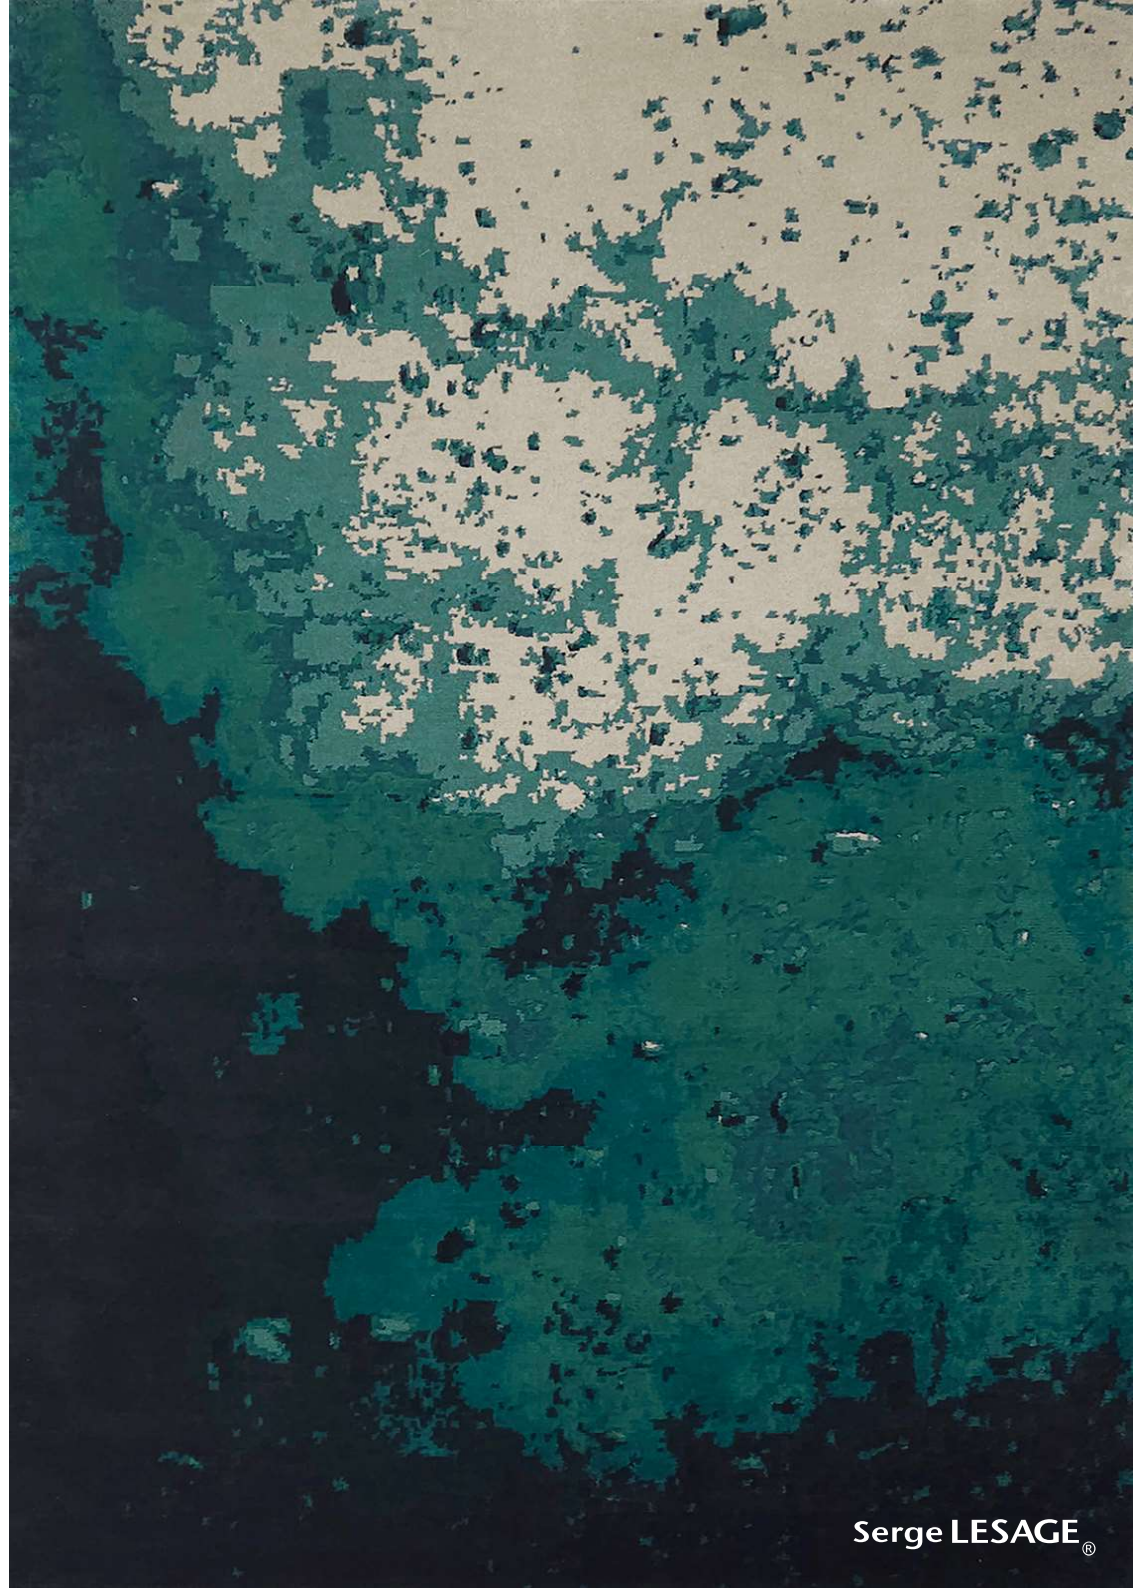

dip

Like a breath of sea air, bubbles seem to rise from the bluish depths of the water and make their way to the surface of the rug.

Colour deep turquoise

Handknotted 86.000 knots/sqm

100% New Zealand Wool

flux

Like a photo revealed on photosensitive paper, the colours stretch before settling and creating an abstract image with multiple nuances.

Colour brick

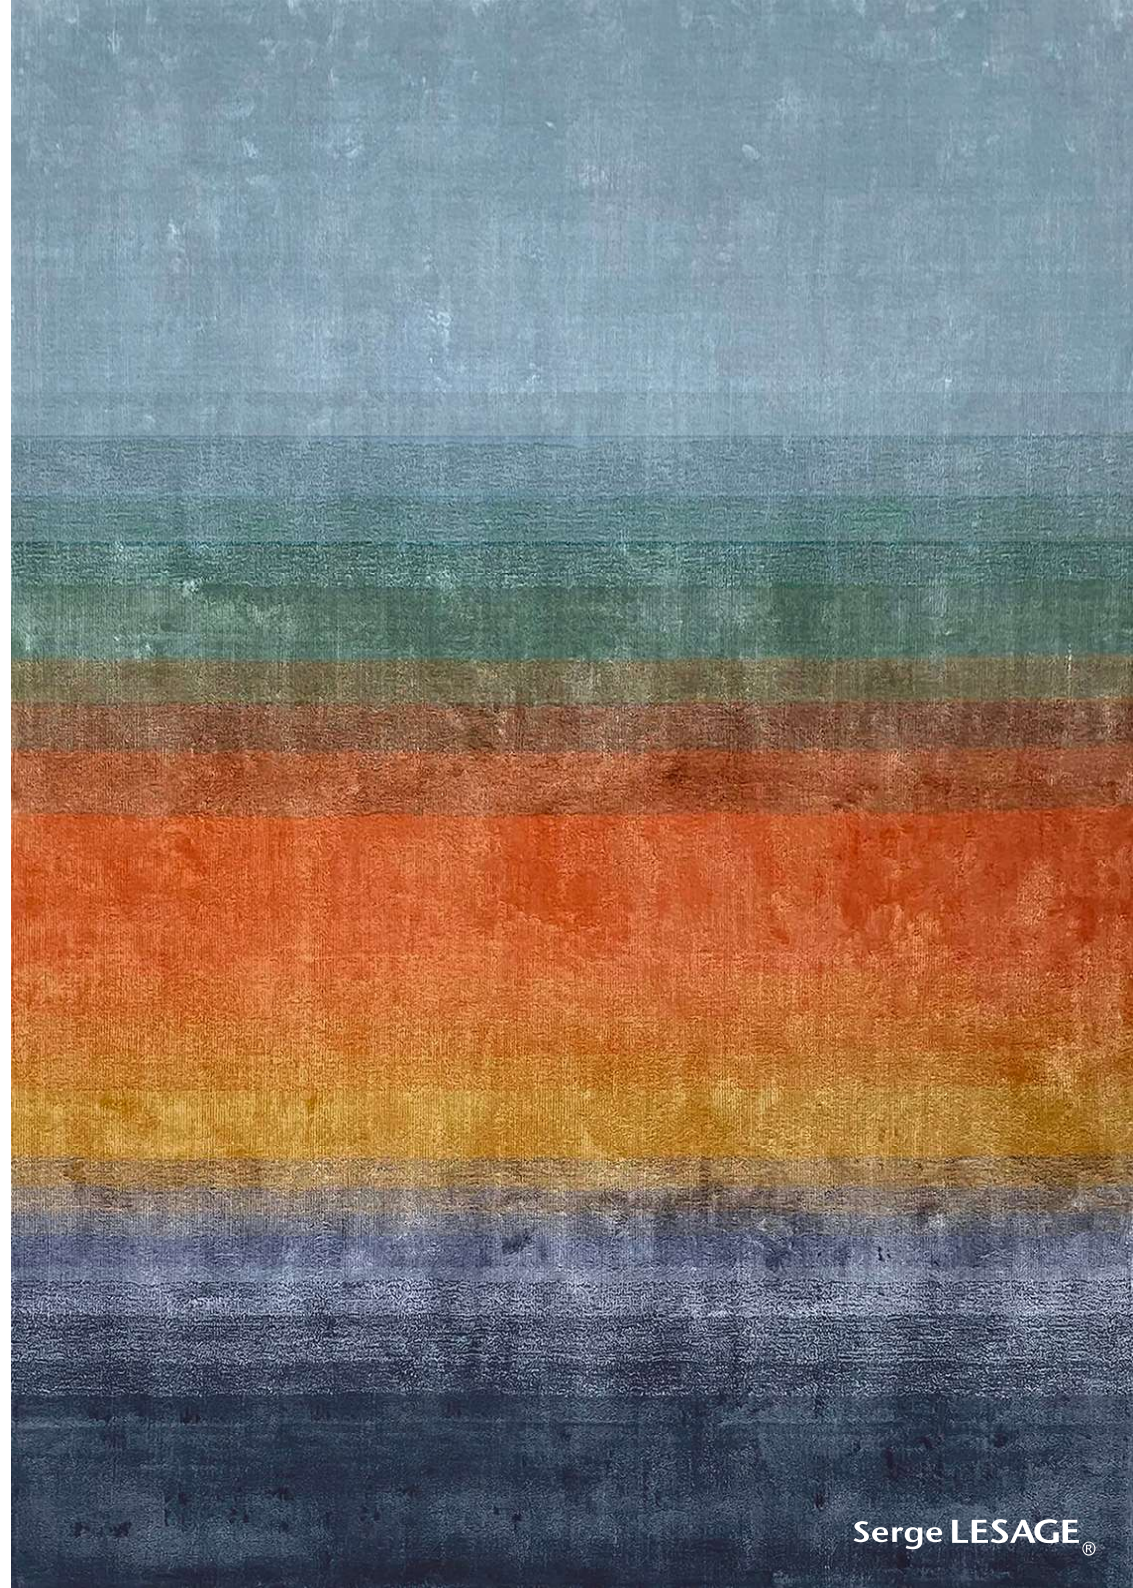

Handknotted 86.000 knots/sqm

moon

Inspired by the photometeor phenomenon that is the rainbow, the chromatic gradation that makes up MOON is reflected in the room to create a whimsical and joyful atmosphere.

patchwork

In a greyish blue monochrome, the imprint of a fragmented form is repeated. Constructed through accumulation, the pattern of this rug is dynamic, free and almost aerial.

Colour astral grey

Minéral

All too often restricted to objects and small items of furniture, mineral decoration is nevertheless the ultimate in refinement

Against a deep red, reminiscent of oxide-rich soil, blond ceramic tiles stand out to create a rug of pure, contemporary elegance.

target

The heart of a precious milky stone is visible, revealing the successive layers that make it up in a gradation of ochre, brown and cream.

Colour cream crème

Faux - Blanc

Cream, whipped cream, milk, beige, moonlight...

To visually enlarge a room, to let the light in or to create a refined but warm atmosphere, a light rug is an essential accessory est l'accessoire

bref

Monochrome and contemporary, BREF plays with the heights of textures to create an abstract motif like a bas-relief on the surface of a block of white marble.

The irregularly curved silhouette combined with the light chrome of this design creates a cosy, restful atmosphere with a graphic touch.

point of view

Whether it's the crackled biscuit of a ceramic tile, a birds-eye view of intersecting lanes or a landscape with a Cubist influence, lines and reliefs meet and play with optics.
